

Healthcare Storyboard

10/17/22

Chris has been working really hard and not paying attention to his health. All his attention is drawn to his job and kids. He really doesn't want there to come a time when he is in need of quick healthcare but has to wait.

His wife notices his diminishing health and downloads the quick health app just in case there is an emergency.

While Chris is cooking one day he just passes out. His kids called his wife and she came running to aid. She pulls out her phone and then looks at the app to see which hospital in the area would be able to get him the quickest help.

She is able to get in contact with Methodist hospital and they send an ambulance to their house in less than 4 minutes!

They are able to get to Chris before he passes away and make him priority and save his life.
